

Terms of use GlobeWQ Platform

(Version 10/03/2022)

The GlobeWQ project is entitled to add to, change or delete parts of or the entire platform at any time without prior notice, or to temporarily or permanently discontinue its posting on the Internet.

The data products on the GlobeWQ are subject to licenses which are provided in Tab 1.

Disclaimer: The content and the functionality of the GlobeWQ Portal is work in progress and will be updated regularly. Despite careful review of the contents, we cannot assume liability for the correctness, completeness and topicality of the information provided. The GlobeWQ Project declines liability for any potential damage or consequences resulting from the direct or indirect use of the contents offered.

Tab 1. Overview of the licenses of the data products available on the GlobeWQ platform

Data/Data Product	Owner	Contact	License
mHM /mQM outputs	Helmholtz-Centre for Environmental Research-UFZ,	Rohini Kumar, rohini.kumar@ufz.de	Attribution Non-Commercial CC BY-NC
Satellite-derived water quality information products	EOMAP GMBH	Thomas Heege, heege@eomap.de	Attribution Non-Commercial CC BY-NC
WorldQual outputs	Chair of Engineering Hydrology and Water Resources Management_RUB	Prof. Dr.-Ing. Martina Flörke, Martina.Floerke@hydrology.ruhr-uni-bochum.de	Attribution Non-Commercial CC BY_NC
GEMStat	GEMS/Water Data Centre, operated by the International Centre for Water Resources and Global Change	Philipp Saile, aail@bafg.de	The GEMS/Water data must not be transferred either in part or total to third parties or to the general public (e.g. by electronic media), without the written consent of the GEMS/Water Data Centre. The data will not be used for commercial purposes without the written consent of the GEMS/Water Data Centre. The GEMS/Water Data Centre itself will obtain clearance from the respective Members or other data providers prior to the release of data for commercial purposes.